Problem Identification

M.E.W Advisors, LLC was contracted to help reduce the back-office workload. We assisted with client financial statement preparation, tax compliance and strategies and audit workpaper preparation from several of their clients. We drafted standard operating procedures (SOP) for some of their clients under the company management consulting practice.

Solution

Understand the control environment in which VAAS Professionals operates. Assisting with the preparation of financial statements for more than 10 clients, which significantly reduces the workload of the clients. With our expertise within the management consulting area, we were able to adopt some methodology from Sarbanes Oxley to assist the clients with the documentation of policies and procedures.

Results

Currently improving client's operational and financial capability, outlining their business objectives and aligning our expertise to support client's growth. Our strong back-office support allows the clients to task more difficult assignments to us. Our senior program manager was able to create a dashboard to track our performance and timeliness. The client adapted our methodology and was able to use it efficiently for client performance.

Problem Identification

Atlanta Real Estate Consultants, LLC is a specialized real estate firm and commercial office brokerage firm since 2003. The company became operational and partnered with M.E.W Advisors to provide back-office support for their accounting needs. The company hired several real estate agents; however, they lacked the infrastructure to support the growth of the business. Atlanta Real Estate Consultants chose M.E.W Advisors as the preferred accounting firm.

Solution

Document business operations, identify cost savings strategies, realign the organizational structure and establish and manage the company's accounting department. We staff the accounting department with key personnel to support the daily, weekly and monthly needs. We develop and support the dashboards with attorneys, brokers and other third-parties, and we manage escrow accounts according to state regulations.

Results

Smooth operation of the entire business model. Client has experienced a steady growth in their bottom-line of 5 percent rate over the years.
